Creamery Will Benefit District

The proposal regarding the erection of a Creamery, what benefits will accrue and what steps have been taken, is a matter of interest to us all. The Saskatchewan Creamery Company has obtained an option on the five lots formerly occupied by the Imperial Lumber Yards Co. Limited.

Their proposal is to erect a plant of sufficient size to handle the business at this point for some time to come. This factory would have a capacity of 2000 lbs of butter per day. As soon as proposed railway lines are completed ice cream will also be manufactured for shipment. The creamery will be equipped with artificial and mechanical refrigeration and all necessary modern machinery. * Probing the scheme meets with success it is proposed to erect the cement foundations for the creamery proper, and also put in the boiler settings, this fall.

Speaking at Monday's meeting Mr. Humphrey, the company's representative, said that the closer market benefits would be readily seen. The farmer saves expressage to Stettin Current or Calgary, and by the delivering of the cream in a sweet condition he would effect a direct saving, of from 2c to 4c a pound.

The case of Minnesota was cited as an example of the benefits to be derived from dairy farming. The Company has in Saskatchewan six Creameries. The same area of land which these plants serve support 800 Creameries in Minnesota besides numerous centralizing plants. The butter manufacture of these centralizing plants alone equals the output of the six Saskatchewan plants. The dairy products of Minnesota last year were valued at $2,000,000 only fifty million dollars less than the whole output of dairy products for the Dominion of Canada. The result is that land in Minnesota has increased in value to treble that of Canadian lands and always finds a ready market. This development in Minnesota has been obtained in the last twenty years. Drought was the factor that caused the Minnesota farmer to turn from grain to dairy farming.

Here is an instance of Creamery development nearest home, at Maple Creek: For short time, when the Saskatchewan Creamery started operations in 1917, only $25 worth of cream was forthcoming daily. During the year of 1919, this had increased to such an extent that the Company paid out $55,000.00 or 700.00 per day. This year the payments are expected to reach close to $60,000.

The method of selling stock locally previous to the erection of a plant is the same as followed at the Saskatchewan Co-operative Creamery Company and other creamery concerns. It has been necessitated by the speedy growth of the company during the past few years having consumed that portion of the capital of the company devoted to the building of new plants. The company are at present undertaking the build-

H. Dufort made a business trip to Empress on Monday, returning on Tuesday's train.

Jack Dobinson was called to Bassano on Friday afternoon, Dr. Scott coming down from there by car and summoning Jack to his brother Dick's bedside where he was critically ill. All that was done was of no avail and Dick passed away on Saturday afternoon. This comes as a deep sorrow to his many friends in and around Atlee. He has been a sufferer in the Bassano hospital for the past three weeks and at one time hopes were entertained for his complete recovery but such was not to be. Heartfelt sympathy is extended to his relatives, by all who knew him. His brother Frank, his cousin John Allen, and Mrs. Jack Dobinson left on Tuesday morning to attend the funeral, which will take place at Bassano.

Mrs. Ernest Seel was a passenger to Bassano, on Tuesday, to attend the funeral of Richard Dobinson.

Mrs. Nina Chappel is visiting north of the Red Deer with her friend, Miss Christy.

Miss H. Pound, from Hanover, N.D., arrived in Atlee last Friday. She will remain with her brothers and sisters here for an extended stay.

The Junior U.F.A. dance, held on July 30, was a remarkable success. The hall was crowded with many who came from a distance of eight or ten miles. The dance was almost entirely conducted by the Juniors and a realization of 30.00 made the children feel that their efforts were appreciated. After all expenses are met there will be a balance of nearly ten dollars for our treasury.

Infected a Creamery at Shaunavon under the same plan. The splendid progress of the Company elsewhere makes the scheme a worth while one and worthy of the support of business men and farmers.

R. O. McKee our agent here for Cocksbutts Implements, disposed of seven or eight binders last week and has gone north of the river to prepare the machines for operation.

The Prairie Lumber Agent here received a car of lumber last week.

E. B. Sobey, of Alderson, weed inspector for the Province, passed through Atlee on way to Empress last Tuesday.

Harvest is upon the most of the farmers now. Crops are reported good and it will not be long until we hear the buzz of the threshing machine.

Neal McKay will go to Medicine Hat, to attend the fair Aug. 5th and 6th.

E. B. Chas. Ahern was appointed librarian, for the books received from the Extension Department, last week. The Junior U.F.A. ordered the books.

They Are Our Sentiments, too, Damit!

At an important meeting in the province, a few days ago, to arrange for a campaign of a civic patriotic nature, the suggestion was made that the newspapers be asked to give support in as large a measure as possible. The suggestion brought a vigorous statement from a prominent business man. "It's up to us to pay our way," he said with emphasis. "We have a good cause here, and I hope and expect the newspapers will support it. But there's far too much of this business of expecting the newspapers to carry the whole burden of every patriotic or charitable movement. Advertising space is all a newspaper has to sell, and it's up to us to buy it to advance a cause we are interested in."

Strange to say, the sentiment was re-echoed by every man present. The people generally seem to be getting something of a new conception of the newspaper business, and obviously the proper one.—Ex.

Co-Operation in Industry

Although sharp differences of opinion may exist throughout Canada as to the methods to be employed to promote the prosperity and development of industry in this Dominion, people are united in desiring to see the natural resources of this country developed to their fullest degree for the use and benefit of our own people and in order to enlarge the export trade of Canada.

No thinking man or woman is antagonistic to the building up of great manufacturing industries in Canada; on the contrary, everybody welcomes them, is anxious to see them prosper, and is prepared to do anything within reason to assist their growth in the common interest of all and for the welfare of the Dominion. Opinions may and do differ as to the policies and methods to be adopted to that end, and these are properly open to debate, but it is almost everywhere recognized and accepted that the primary means to be employed should be scientific and vigorous development of Canada's latent wealth in natural resources of all kinds.

Manufacturers, workmen and consumers alike stand to benefit greatly through the development for use of those natural sources of wealth with which the several provinces abound. For example, it is a source of national strength and benefit to all people that, as one propagandist for the great manufacturing interests recently pointed out, Canada should have a great match-making industry. Such an industry calls for the use of many natural products of Canada, gives employment to hundreds of men and women, and to the extent that it supplies the home market and adds to the export trade of the country, adds to the national strength and financial stability of the country. Our people should welcome and support such industries.

But it is in the interests of all manufacturing industries, as well as in the interests of transportation, banking generally, and the whole body of the consuming public that the basic industries should receive first and foremost attention. The country, for example, as coal mining. Without adequate supply of coal at reasonable prices all manufacturing industry, transportation, and so forth, would be seriously crippled, if, indeed, not brought to a standstill.

Canada has abundant coal deposits, yet this country has for generations imported coal to the extent of tens of millions of tons annually, thus adding to the adverse balance of trade, while our own mines have languished and employment in their development been denied to our people. Now, owing to conditions under which this country has no control, it has become a matter of dire necessity that our people should be made to realize the requirements largely at home. Here in the West we must rely almost exclusively this fall and winter upon the output of our western mines, yet because the lack of development in the past it will be difficult for them to meet the heavy demands so suddenly thrust upon them.

In past years these mines have frequently been idle during the summer months, because there was no immediate demand for coal, and because much of it is of a class that cannot be stored in the open, subject to the weather conditions. It must be stored under cover. This has resulted in labor dissatisfaction, because of "lay-offs" at the mines, and the operators have had great difficulty in maintaining full and efficient staffs of workers. Such a condition has also added to the transportation problem, inasmuch as the eastbound coal movement from the Alberta mines to Saskatchewan and Manitoba has come at the same period of the year as the heavy movement of grain from the prairies to the head of the lakes. In other words the two heaviest freight movements have come together, and both have called for transportation in the same direction—from east to west. If one moved west and the other east, the transportation problem would be simple, but two heavy freight movements in one direction, means a return of long trains of empty cars the other way, thus adding enormously to transportation costs which the people have to pay.

Future provision must be made for the transportation and storage of eastern coal during the summer months before the grain movement begins in the fall if dangers of grain blockades or an acute coal shortage across weather are not to be avoided. It is too late to do much in this direction this year, but the people can help very materially and in a simple and thoroughly practical manner by buying their winter's requirements of coal and taking delivery of it into their cellars—which are the chief existing places of storage—now. A heavy movement of coal in the West during the next six or eight weeks will assist enormously in reducing the costs, preventing grain blockades with a bumper crop in prospect, providing against a coal shortage with its resultant inconveniences and suffering, and largely solve the big transportation problem which otherwise will cripple this country during the coming fall and winter.

Frenchman Inventor Of Poison Gas

Proof Sustained in Original Documents Dated April 1865

That a Swiss lieutenant 250 years ago invented asphyxiating gas for the French army, is the claim advanced by the French press supported by historic documents, proving that so far as war is concerned there is nothing new under the sun. The discovery of Foreign Affairs contains the original documents dated April 1865, signed by Dupre, French chemist at Geneva, and by the discovery to the Sieur Dorchat of Sie Valais, then serving the French King at the Canton of Freiburg. According to Dorchat's claims, he was able in four hours at a minimum expense, to prepare a liquid giving off a gas as thick and as deadly as chlorine gas. It was impossible for human beings to remain in its proximity.

The gas bomb is no new invention, for Dorchat had perfected a method of throwing containers from a cannon, even exceeding modern gas attacks by devising a cartridge or tube to be fired from an ordinary army pistol. The official records, however, fail to show whether the great Louis investigated Dorchat's discovery, but military experts of today point out that the letters were mentioned 14 years ago in a volume published by the Swiss Consul in Belgium and probably prompted German experiments of frightfulness to investigate the possibilities of adopting gas in warfare.

Birds That Cannot Fly

Wings of Barnyard Fowls Have Become Useless for Flying

Why don't barnyard fowls fly? They can make a fluttering pretence at flight, it is true, but for real flying their wings are useless. Barnyard fowls have lost the use of their wings through neglect to use them. They have been valued for their eggs, and, as a consequence, they have been well fed. Thus the necessity for flying from place to place in search of food has not existed. They have for the same reason been protected from danger from attack by animals and from other dangers that would make flight, as a means of escape, a necessity. In course of time, therefore, their wings have become practically useless for purposes of flight. The wings of barnyard fowls are gradually decreasing in size. It may be in the course of time their wings will be nothing more than mere stumps, and later still it is quite possible that they will disappear altogether.

Canada's Need

Resources Only Need to be Developed in Order to Enrich This Country

"What is the need of Canada at the present time? We have a great wealth in this country. How are we going to meet it? We are told to produce. We can produce in the future, on the land, and in the mines of this country. We have great natural resources that only need to be developed in order to enrich this country; and if we can only develop our resources to the extent of one-fourth of their value at the present time we would have no trouble in meeting our obligations as a nation. There is no cause for any person in this country to be discouraged about the future of Canada. All we need do is to move around this Dominion to realize the great resources we possess; and we cannot help but become prouder of our country and cannot help but glory in the fact that, in Canada, we have great wealth and as great opportunities as are to be found in any land in the world today. What is requisite to encourage the development of those resources, and given an opportunity to the people to take advantage of the wealth that is in the country there will be no need for the government to worry about the future of Canada. The country is, for the honest, capable and ambitious citizen of Canada to worry about it. It is the duty of the citizen, M.P., in the House of Commons.

The exhibition is of a purely technical character, intended to attract traders. The official catalogue which contains a list of shippers, importers, etc., will doubtless prove useful to specialists in the timber industry.

Sir Auckland Geddes Presents Gift From City of London

Great Britain does not forget those who prove themselves its friends in the hour of need, Sir Auckland Geddes, British ambassador to the United States, told Congress yesterday in presenting him with a jewelled sword as a gift from the city of London. The sword was made at the British embassy.

Commenting on the celebration of the independence of the United States "wring from an autocratic government by the spirit of individual freedom as in many lands," Sir Auckland recalled that in these days "there were many on both sides of the Atlantic Ocean who thought the action of the framers of your constitution was a great thing."

"There is none now, I believe, on either side of the Atlantic," he said, "who does not think that they were right. Throughout your war years all of English stock, the memories of Runnymede are a possession of all our people as they are living men and possession of all the British people."

General Pershing accepted the sword "in the name of the men of the United States who, with the men of Great Britain and the other allies, combined the courage and skill to bring about a new victory to our race, and to all those who seek justice and liberty for mankind."

Samatra Protects Tigers

Tigers are protected in Samatra, the reason being that one of the important industries of that country is the cultivation of an African palm. This palm was introduced several years ago, and the wild hogs so enjoyed it that they were almost exterminated. It thrived on them that they increased and multiplied rapidly until they became a perfect pest. Now, wild hogs are the enemy of the Samatran tigers, therefore the protection. But it looks like a dangerous experiment.

England to Grow Square Trees

Not with any desire of giving publicity to the designs of that curious class of artists, called cubists, but with the entire laudatory ambition of avoiding waste, the Cambridge Forestry Association, of Cambridge, England, suggests that trees should be made to grow square instead of round, their produce would be of better quality and in greater quantity. Will the leaves, flowers and fruit of such trees be square also, one wonders?

Much Loss Is Incurred In Summer Months Through Placing Fertile Eggs In the Market

The presence of male birds in the flock during the summer months has a decidedly detrimental effect upon the quality of eggs and poultry producers lose many thousands of dollars annually through the practice of partially incubated and bad eggs in the produce they market. Reports are now being received from all parts of the country of the number of partially incubated eggs appearing in current receipts. Producers do not realize that it is unnecessary for a fertile egg to be placed under a broody hen to cause the germ to grow; a temperature of seventy degrees is sufficient to start incubation. If the heat is constant the development of the egg will continue, but if it ceases or is intermittent, satisfaction at once sets in, and the egg becomes bad. Such eggs have no price or value in shipment, and should be given to the consumer the consumptive demand and immediately falls off.

The male bird is not essential in egg production, his usefulness is over when the supply of fertile eggs for the season has been secured. The hens will lay just as many eggs when the male bird has been removed and the eggs will be more suitable for consumption, packing or storing. Further, there is a distinct financial gain to the producer who markets infertile eggs, because the best trade in many cities offer a premium of from one to five cents a dozen for infertile eggs.

Then there is the question of feed. It costs money to feed poultry, and with feed at its present value, the consumption of feed by males keeps the price of the eggs in the spring economic waste. The reason for this is that the best price for live and dressed fowl prevails in the spring and early summer. During the summer, when the price declines, and by the early fall when many producers decide to market their male birds a lower price than the prevailing price is to be accepted; the producer thus losing the amount per pound the market has declined, plus the value of feed consumed by the birds during the summer months. This financial loss takes on a more serious aspect when it is coupled with the amount charged back by the wholesaler for the bad and partially incubated eggs that have been marketed.

Farmers and others selling eggs for market should therefore need no urging to kill off, dispose of, or at least remove the male birds from the flock after the breeding season.

Talk Won't Make Wheat Grow

Artur Brashane, highly paid editorial writer for the Hearst papers, is getting worried about bread prices. He broke into print about it as follows: "A dispatch from Washington says, calmly, 'the price of bread may go as high as 25 cents a loaf after the government removes the restrictions on the price of wheat.'"

"With bread at 25 cents a loaf, sugar at 25 to 40 cents a pound, butter a dollar a pound, the government will do well to invent some new, cheaper food, or prepare for trouble." The government will never be able to invent a cheaper food than wheat. Art, laws and resolutions will not make wheat grow. It takes hard work and high-priced land and machinery. When the people of the cities get hungry enough maybe some of them will be willing to go out into the country and help raise wheat. Maybe, too, they will try to find what becomes of the 20 cents out of the 25 that the farmer doesn't get. The Prairie Farmer.

Montreal, July 29.—The first train bearing its quota of 35,000 harvesters for the western provinces will leave Montreal on August 9, and the next will leave on August 10. Canadian Pacific railway officials state that they do not think there will be any difficulty in obtaining all the farm help that is needed as the wages paid is very high, amounting to $115 per month during the reaping of the harvest.

The increased price of newspaper which went into effect on July 1, represents an increase in production costs for Canadian newspaper of $8,000,000 per annum, while the increased postal rates will mean a further increase of almost $1,000,000. The extraordinary increase in the cost of newspaper is shown by comparison with the prices ruling early in the war. Up to December 31, 1916, the price of roll newsprint was $36 per ton. This has risen to $80 in the early part of 1920. The price is now $110 a ton, an increase of 87 1/2 per cent over the price prevailing prior to 1917, or over 205 per cent. For the fourth quarter of this year a further increase is announced by the paper companies to $130 per ton, an increase $94 per ton, over the 1916 price, or over 301 per cent.

"Bare Fists"

In "Bare Fists," Cheyenne Harry is the son of a marshal who is killed in trying to quell a saloon brawl. His mother, fearing the same fate will overtake him, makes him promise to never use his gun against a fellow man. In that wild and turbulent country, Harry's promise is more likely to end his life, as leaving him defenceless before his enemies, than to protect it. But he keeps the promise until a last despicable outrage—the branding of his little brother—stirs him to action, and brings about a whirlwind finish to the picture.

Empress vs. Cavendish

The town people were all present on Monday evening to witness a speedy baseball game on the home diamond between the Cavendish Hurriers and the Empress Nine. The latter played a very even game from the beginning but, as they liked, some opposing in-fielder was always in the reach of the ball and it was in the first baseman's mitt before you could count three. Although eight runs were made by Empress, no player made more than one run and had "Frenchy" succeeded in stealing home from third in the fourth inning each player would have had one run to his credit.

The Cavendish support in both the cut-and-in-field was immense and until it began getting dark, only one error was noticed on their side. One of the strong points was the battery, which was the biggest any of the onlookers had ever saw between the great lakes and the foothills. It really took some nerve to stand close to the base and let Melvin slug the sphere at your dome, in mistake. Our poor friend, the Sparrow is today nursing a sore side and altogether having got in the road of the ball twice, when batting.

The batteries were: Barros and Barros; Northcott and Sparrow. Umpires: Robertson and Cochrane, of Calgary; score 11 to 8 in favor of Cavendish.

The noise the visiting team made when departing for home showed that they were more than pleased with their success and with the manner in which they were treated.

The first of the "Father and Son" ball games was won by the dads. The next game will be played Tuesday evening August 10th. This game will be a good one, as the boys expect to "stiffen-up" their team. The dads are "stiffened-up" enough now.

BINDLOSS

Cutting will start this week in this district.

Mr. Frank Lydsman is putting up hay at his place. A good supply is standing in his field.

Although the picnic at John Barnes' may be called a success, the wind that evening was the cause of many disturbances and disappointments.

The music rendered by Jack McNeill, "Shorty" De Groat, Frank Lydsman, Peter Spaepen and S. Fjeldberg was of the best and the people enjoyed the same very well.

We congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Fred Strom on the birth of a son. Fred will soon be able to farm a couple more sections now.

George Blackburn, who has lately returned from the west, has been engaged by Mr. Herb. Demarest.

H. Demarest has about a hundred ton of hay to put up; his intention is to have it put up before harvest.

Misses Ladan and John Boes' family went for a trip across the river last Sunday.

Some people who have attended the Social Plains picnic sought "hayfever". Wonder what's next?

Eug. McFarland summer-fallowed 240 acres. We are informed that this prominent farmer has attached a gauge and a sulky plow together and drives light horses in the lead. Pay attention, farmers!

A surprise party was held at the home of Capt. and Mrs. Taylor, on Sunday, July 25. Included among the guests were: Capt. and Mrs. Baker, Medicine Hat; Capt. and Mrs. Clarke, of Medicine Hat; Mr. and Mrs. Eastaway, Social Plains and Chas. Whitfield, reporter for Medicine Hat district court.

W. Crocker, of Social Plains, had a runaway in town, on Saturday last. He made a jump from the rig near the hotel and was lucky to escape with a bruised side. The buggy was somewhat damaged as a result of the runaway.

"Stop at the garage and fill the crank case with Imperial Polarine Heavy. The Imperial Polarine and we have found it to be the best lubricant for these trucks. Fill the tank with Imperial Premium Gasoline while you're there."

A Grade for Every Type of Motor

IMPERIAL Polarine provides good lubrication for all types of motors and all motor parts. Extreme high engine heat does not affect its body—exactly the right body to seal in compression, conserve power and get the most from fuel. It burns clean.

Imperial Polarine coats and cushions each moving part and follows through at every joint and rub. Reduces wear, makes each part function smoothly and ensures long life and service to your motor.

When you stop for oil ask to see the Imperial Polarine Chart of Recommendations, which shows the right lubricant for your car. It is on display wherever Imperial Polarine is sold.

Gallon and four-gallon sealed cans, steel kegs, half-barrels and barrels. Buy by the barrel and half-barrel and save money. For sale by dealers everywhere throughout Canada.
